From the President

On April 25th, Cliff Miller passed away, leaving his family and friends for another calling. Lori and I will miss his dedication of helping others through his generous way of accepting anyone and everyone as equals. I first met Cliff 12 yrs ago while attending my first SHHH meeting, and Cliff was the first one to introduce himself to me and offer his friendship. Throughout the years, Cliff has shown me what it takes to be a man of many coats. I will always remember his Ole and Lena jokes and his passion to treat everyone as important in his everyday life. Cliff was a very compassionate human being whom we all learned from. Probably what sums Cliff up the most is that he loved everyone and was equally loved in return. He will truly be missed.

Sincerely,

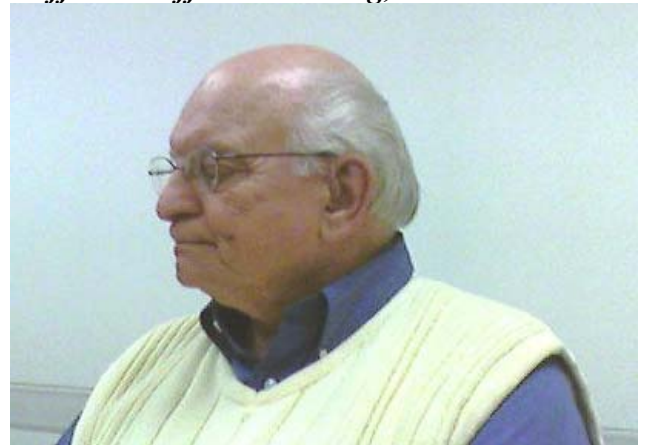

President of SHHH MN Chapter #1

Joseph O'Brien

Papa

By Analise Adams, Cliff's Granddaughter

*Sad,
I feel so sad.
Papa's going to die.
Mad,
I am so mad.
I hate cancer.
Papa only has a few months left.
I will treasure each month.
Each week,
Each moment.
Papa is special to me.
He is very smart.
Charming.
Goofy.
Loving.
Caring.
Helpful.
Supporting.
A good role model.
I don't want him to leave me.
I want him to stay.
He is so good to us.
He is so strong.
We can't live without him.
No one can.
I want him to stay till my end.*

REMINDER: Memberships are due for everyone on September 16, 2006 for next year.

Taming the Telephone

Phone use is a challenge for anyone with a hearing loss. Talk to your friends, co-workers, and family members face-to-face about using the phone. Teach them the best way to speak to you.

When you are speaking with a stranger, develop the skill of making specific suggestions instead of just stating that you cannot hear. Helpful hints may include:

- "Please slow down your speech"
- "Please talk a little softer/louder"
- Confirm details: "Did you just say that the meeting is at 7 pm?"
- "I am not good at recognizing voices. Who is calling please?"
- Ask the person to turn off the noise in the background at their location.
- "That is the perfect speed and volume for me to understand. Thank you."
- "Let me repeat this back to you to be sure I heard it correctly." Provide feedback to the person you are talking to. Both of you will know if you understood correctly.
- Ask the person to rephrase what was said.
- Do not bluff. That is a "no-win" situation for both of you.

If you find you are almost always unable to understand on the telephone, it is time to check out the latest telephone technology. Captioned telephones and relay services can help you maintain your telephone independence.

BYLAWS AND ELECTION OF OFFICERS AT THE MAY MEETING

As most of us are aware, Self Help for Hard of Hearing People (SHHH) is now Hearing Loss Association of America.

In order to change our chapter name to Hearing Loss Association of America, MN Chapter 1, we need to amend our bylaws as explained at the last monthly meeting. Our bylaws encourage anyone paying fees to Minnesota Chapter #1 to be a member in good standing with HLAA (National), and any chapter officer is required to be a member of HLAA (National). There will again be an opportunity for discussion at the May meeting, and then the chapter will vote on this amendment to the bylaws of MN Chapter #1.

We will also be voting for officers at the May meeting. We will be electing a vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

As we do each year, we will be concluding the year with a pot luck lunch.

Harris Communications: When you see the ad for 15% off an item, what exactly does that mean? Well, it means if you are a member of National SHHH/HLAA in Bethesda, Maryland, you have a card, a number, you receive the Hearing Loss Magazine, and then you receive 15% off. National and local are two different things. Also: The discount will be off regular priced items, not sale or clearance items. There are some products that would not be discounted at all, such as pagers.

Gallaudet On The Ropes

By Merrilee Knoll

After Irving King Jordan (IKJ) took the role as President of Gallaudet University (GU) in 1988 after the "Deaf President Now" rally, things were expected to go smoothly for the next president. He was the first deaf President of Gallaudet since its start up in 1864. Perhaps you remember the protesters back on the campus shouting and signing DPN in opposition of the newly appointed President Elisabeth A. Zinser. Her reign lasted only 7 days; she was hearing and did not use American Sign Language. The students were ready for a deaf leader.

IKJ is now reaching retirement after 18 years of service. He and his wife Linda live on campus, he has two grown children. Jordan grew up hearing and using English as his first language. He served in the Navy for 4 yrs. After a motorcycle accident at age 21, he became profoundly deaf. Irving earned a B.A., M.A. and Ph. D. in psychology from G. IKJ then joined the G. faculty, became professor, dept. chair, dean, exchange scholar in Poland, visiting scholar and speaker, research party in Scotland, and president. He is well known and highly respected by students and staff. Unfortunately he may not go out as popular as he came in, due in part to the new person chosen by the Board of Trustees (BOT) with his blessings to take his place in Jan. 2007. Until that time he will stay on the Gallaudet pay role.

Jane Fernandes 47, was born deaf but grew up oral and learned to sign when she was 23. Her mother and brother are also deaf, they all use spoken Eng. Jane always attended public school and is not a graduate of G. She is married and has 2 children. She is not unfamiliar to the University, as she has been Provost at GU since 2000. She previously served as VP for the Clerc Center at G from 1995-2000. So how can there be any problem with such a "good fit?"

She has said that her problem with the GU staff, students, alumni and faculty is that she is not deaf enough. She said she is not the "perfect deaf person" who had 2 deaf parents, ASL was the first language, went to a deaf school, went to deaf clubs, went to deaf church, went to G, married a deaf man, had 2 deaf children. She thinks this is the problem!!!! She is wrong, this is not the problem at all.

The problems actually are; she is not a people person, she is arrogant, she seems out of touch with the students she is there to serve, she knows few by name staff included, she said she is fluent in ASL but many blogs at G beg to differ, in the jobs at G so far she has not kept her promises in what she said she would do, so she is not considered trustworthy by either staff or student, she has had many people fired, the present staff feel if they voice any difference of opinion to her they too will soon be axed when and if she becomes president. She also assigned her husband a prominent job at Gallaudet.

So this leads us to what is the family of Gallaudet actually asking for in their 9th president? They want somebody they can respect and be respected in turn, admire, lead them, talk with, a role model. Someone not to be feared of losing their grant money, their school status, or their jobs if they come to you with an idea that may differ from your own. The GU family wants to be able to go to you with their concerns and ideas to make sure Gallaudet stays the wonderful University that it is known to be, as the only deaf oriented University in the world, accessed and trusted by many young people around the globe.

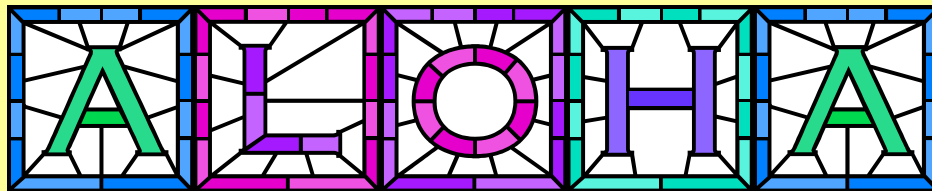

Hello fellow SHHHers!

I love spring and its wonderful weather! It is also a time of change. Last month we were visited by Ole and Roger from Lions International. They informed us of their ongoing quest to make sure every baby born in the state of Minnesota with a hearing loss will be given the chance to hear- either with a hearing aid or cochlear device. This is one of Lions International many campaigns they charter on a daily basis. The meeting was a ROAR of good info. After the May meeting, my term will be ending as President, so we will electing new officers for the positions of vice-president, secretary and treasurer, followed by our annual end of the year picnic. I encourage all to attend!

Enjoy!

Joe
